2016 Rosé

Benefitting Emma Jacobs Breast Cancer Foundation

Russian River Valley, Sonoma County

How many wines get made as a result of a long night of drinking and a brazen challenge? A few years ago while enjoying a few bottles of wine, our friend and wine club member Emma Jacobs issued a challenge. Emma, a breast cancer survivor, has dedicated her life to raising money to find a cure for breast cancer. Through her foundation, Taking Initiative To Survive (T.I.T.S.), Emma raises thousands of dollars each year for research at M.D Anderson Cancer Center. She challenged us to make a better Rosé than the one she was selling for her charity, and to donate all the proceeds to research. Never to be outdone, we picked up the gauntlet and ran with it. Two years later, we released our 2012 Nice Rosé of Pinot Noir. We again turned to our friend Sean Capioux, famed for producing award winning single-vineyard bottlings of Pinot Noir, to make this Rosé with us. This year, we have done it again and are proud to release an even better 2016 Rosé of Pinot Noir.

Nice Rosé pairs well with pork, poultry and seafood. It should be served chilled, like white wine, and is lovely to sip all by itself on these hot summer days. All of the proceeds will benefit Emma's Foundation for breast cancer research.
